

Application form to obtain SGfB active membership by dossier

Preliminary remarks

The diversity of SGfB certified training courses documents a rich training offer in psychosocial counselling. With its high requirements SGfB ensures that certified counselling courses fulfill comparable quality standards in spite of their diverse approaches. The SGfB's ethical principles and its Code of Ethics for SGfB counsellors together with the core competencies for counselling defined by SGfB provide clear guidelines for high quality counselling activities. All these documents can be downloaded from the SGfB website (<http://www.sgfb.ch>)

Contents of the application dossier

Since you do not have completed a SGfB certified counselling course, we need to rely on information about your professional career and especially about your counselling training and counselling practice in addition to personal information for the examination of your application for SGfB active membership. The application form serves as a template for the compilation of your personal dossier. Please note, that in addition to the fully completed and signed application form (1), you need to provide documentation with respect to the area of counselling (2), self-experience /personality development (3), proof of practical experience (4), proof of supervision (5) and other documents (6) supported by sufficient evidence. You should also enclose a photograph of yourself. Concrete indications with respect to the areas 2 to 4 are described in the admission rules for categories of SGfB membership, Art. 9.

The application form must be completed in full with the additional information. Please, send the complete dossier in two copies with the application form in electronic format to the SGfB secretariat, Konradstrasse 6, 8005 Zürich.

If you have any doubts or questions we recommend that you first contact the secretariat.

Procedure

The secretariat examines the formal aspects of the dossier. In case the dossier is complete, it is sent to the Quality Committee for the substantive examination. The final decision about SGfB membership is taken by the board.

The processing of the application may lead to further questions. The duration of the examination depends on the completeness and the quality of the documentation that is provided. The duration of the process takes minimally two months.

All the persons involved in the examination of the application and the decision making are subject to professional secrecy. They are not allowed to provide any information about the contents of the dossier to third parties.
